Once upon a time there was a young boy called Josh who lived in a small cottage in the woods. He lived with his older brother Leon.

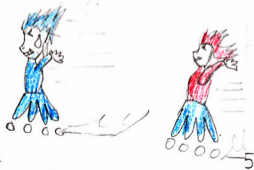

One day when Leon and Josh were going for a walk Josh saw something strange. "Leon look!" he said. "All the trees are burned!"

There's something even more stranger Josh said Leon. "What's that!?" "It's a DRAGON" "!!!" they both screamed.

They both sprinted
to their cottage and made a plan.

First they tried scaring
the dragon away but it didn't work.

Next they tried building a fence to keep the dragon away but it didn't work either.

Finally they tried making a puppet larger than the dragon but the dragon burned the puppet up.

"I don't have any more ideas" said Leon.

Suddenly an idea popped into Josh's head.

"Aha! lets make fences with
with spikes on them!

So they made fences with spikes and the dragon
spikes stuck everywhere.

The dragon never came back and Josh and Leo lived happily ever after.
